

KOLPING YOUTH

10 years of life

Overall objective:

Contribute to improving the living conditions of the youth for their full development

Specific objective:

Promote the creation of some youth development activities and the strengthening of their capacities.

Kolping youth in Cameroon is at the center of all the attention by grabbing the invitation of the international community and in particular the Church of Cameroon, officials that focus on youth movements of the diversity and importance especially in the Catholic church, young Kolping is showing very dynamic in its ambitious program involving the following areas: spirituality, environment, health, education, agro-pastoral, sports and leisure activities.

Spirituality is marked by the teachings of the social doctrine of the Church, recollections and retreats and other teachings on spirituality and the Kolping spirit.

In the field of environmental protection is a program established to rebuild a sensitive ecosystem particularly in certain localities where the chosen slogan is "a young tree." For example, the Diocese of Batouri with the project the choir boy, together with the Bishop of Batouri protector of the work in Cameroon.

In the health field, an outreach program for young people in rural and urban areas on preventive methods to fight against endemic diseases.

In the area of education, we are still looking for partnerships with some agencies and departments for support in our volunteer program is to support some orphanages and disadvantaged children in their education.

In the field of sports and leisure activities the year are marked by multidisciplinary vacation championships for young people in cities and rural areas, visits to zoos and botanical gardens, and trips to the backcountry. All these activities are punctuated by contests and sweepstakes.

A volunteer program for young emerge in 2013

Slogan: Youth in service culture and exchange

For young people who want to enrich their life experience, work Kolping allows us each year to have volunteer work, city or country. This is possible thanks to the Kolping community that is a sending and hosting organization in the program "Youth in Action", which allows us to exchange experiences in our different cultures.

Through volunteering, young people have the chance to meet other cultures, learn new skills and to learn another language of their choice.

Everybody who has a spare time wants to use this time to provide help to others, we can volunteer in Kolping and especially with young people.

Volunteering is also a part of your projects based on those unemployed or people with work difficulties. Those who engage in work with others break their passivity and improve their skills while sharing with others.
